Kaiser Health Tracking Poll: Election 2008

October 2008

Methodology

The Kaiser Health Tracking Poll: Election 2008 was designed and analyzed by public opinion researchers at the Kaiser Family Foundation led by Mollyann Brodie, Ph.D., including Claudia Deane and Carolina Gutiérrez. The survey was conducted October 8 through October 13, 2008, among a nationally representative random sample of 1,217 adults ages 18 and older, including 1,115 adults who say they are registered to vote. Of these registered voters, there are 333 self-identified Republicans, 407 self-identified Democrats, and 297 self-identified independents. Telephone interviews were carried out in English and Spanish by Princeton Survey Research Associates.

The margin of sampling error for the total sample is plus or minus 3 percentage points and for the sample of registered voters it is plus or minus 4 percentage points; for registered voters who self-identify as Democrats it is plus or minus 6 percentage points and for those who self-identify as Republicans and independents it is plus or minus 7 percentage points. For results based on subgroups, the margin of sampling error is higher. Note that sampling error is only one of many potential sources of error in this or any other public opinion poll.

Values less than 0.5% are indicated by an asterisk (*).

“VOL” indicates that a response was volunteered by respondent, not an explicitly offered choice.

Due to rounding, percentages may not add to 100.
