Health Poll Report Survey:
Voters on Health Care and the 2006
Elections

October 2006

Methodology

The Kaiser Family Foundation Health Poll Report Survey: Voters on Health Care and the 2006 Elections was conducted and analyzed by researchers at the Kaiser Family Foundation. A nationally representative sample of 1,200 adults ages 18 and older – including 1,052 self-reported registered voters – was contacted by telephone by Princeton Survey Research Associates International between October 5 and October 10, 2006. Interviews were conducted in English and Spanish. Most results reported here are shown based on the general population (noted as “ALL”) and based on those who reported they are registered voters (noted as “RV”), although for some questions, just the general population is shown.

The margin of sampling error for the survey is plus or minus 3 percentage points for results based on all registered voters and for results based on all respondents. For results based on smaller subsets of voters, the margin of sampling error is somewhat higher. Note that sampling error is only one of many potential sources of error in this or any other public opinion poll.

Values less than 0.5% are indicated by an asterisk (*). “Vol.” indicates that a response was volunteered by respondent, not an explicitly offered choice. Percentages may not always add up to 100% due to rounding.

1. Here's my first question... What will be the single most important issue in your vote for Congress this year...? (READ AND RANDOMIZE 1-6, READ 'SOMETHING ELSE' LAST)

| ALL | RV | |
