Kaiser Health Tracking Poll: January 2012

January 2012

METHODOLOGY

This Kaiser Health Tracking Poll was designed and analyzed by public opinion researchers at the Kaiser Family Foundation led by Mollyann Brodie, Ph.D., including Liz Hamel, Sarah Cho, and Theresa Boston. The survey was conducted January 12-17, 2012, among a nationally representative random digit dial telephone sample of 1,206 adults ages 18 and older, living in the United States, including Alaska and Hawaii (note: persons without a telephone could not be included in the random selection process). Computer-assisted telephone interviews conducted by landline (703) and cell phone (503, including 275 who had no landline telephone) were carried out in English and Spanish by Braun Research, Inc. under the direction of Princeton Survey Research Associates International (PSRAI). Both the landline and cell phone samples were provided by Survey Sampling International, LLC to PSRAI. For the landline sample, respondents were selected by asking for the youngest adult male or female currently at home based on a random rotation. If no one of that gender was available, interviewers asked to speak with the youngest adult of the opposite gender. For the cell phone sample, interviews were conducted with the person who answered the phone.

The combined landline and cell phone sample was weighted to balance the sample demographics to match census estimates for the national population data from the Census Bureau's 2011 Annual Social and Economic Supplement (ASEC) on sex, age, education, race, Hispanic origin, nativity (for Hispanics only), and region along with data from the 2000 Census on population density. The sample was also weighted to match current patterns of telephone use using data from the January-June 2011 National Health Interview Survey. The weight takes into account the fact that respondents with both a landline and cell phone have a higher probability of selection in the combined sample and also adjusts for the household size for the landline sample. All statistical tests of significance account for the effect of weighting. Weighted and unweighted values for key demographic variables are shown in the table below.

Sample Demographics
		Unweighted	Weighted
Gender
	Male	50.4%	48.8%
	Female	49.6%	51.2%
Age
	18-24	7.0%	12.2%
	25-34	11.4%	15.9%
	35-44	15.4%	18.1%
	45-54	20.0%	17.7%
	55-64	21.2%	16.2%
	65+	20.6%	16.4%
Education
	Less than high school	6.7%	11.6%
	High school graduate	26.3%	33.5%
	Some college	25.5%	23.6%
	College graduate	38.5%	29.0%
Race/Ethnicity
	White, non-Hispanic	69.5%	66.4%
	Black, non-Hispanic	12.4%	11.5%
	Hispanic, US born	7.7%	6.6%
	Hispanic, non-US born	2.7%	5.8%
	Other	3.5%	6.0%

The margin of sampling error including the design effect for the full sample is plus or minus 3 percentage points. For results based on subgroups, the margin of sampling error may be higher. Sample sizes and margin of sampling errors for other subgroups are available by request. Note that sampling error is only one of many potential sources of error in this or any other public opinion poll.

The response rate calculated based on the American Association of Public Opinion Research's Response Rate 3 formula was 21 percent for the landline sample and 22 percent for the cell phone sample.

Trends in this document come from surveys listed on the last page. Values less than 0.5% are indicated by an asterisk (*). "VOL." indicates that a response was volunteered by respondent, not an explicitly offered choice. Due to rounding, percentages may not add to 100.

1. As you may know, a health reform bill was signed into law in 2010. Given what you know about the health reform law, do you have a generally (favorable) or generally (unfavorable) opinion of it? ⁴ June 2010 through December 2011 favorability trend was asked as an item on a list of provisions of the health reform law.

READ TO ALL: Next I'd like to ask you some questions about the U.S. Supreme Court.

8. Do you think the Supreme Court Justices usually decide their cases based on legal analysis without regard to politics and ideology, or do you think they sometimes let their own ideological views influence their decisions?

Decide cases based on legal analysis	17
Sometimes let own views influence decisions	75
Don't know/Refused	9

9. As you may know, lawsuits challenging the federal government's authority to require all Americans to have health insurance as part of the health reform law have been filed in the U.S. courts. The Supreme Court has announced they will hear arguments in the case later this year. How much would you say you've heard about these lawsuits? A lot, some, only a little or nothing at all?

	01/12
A lot	13
Some	18
Only a little	33
Nothing at all	35
Don't know/Refused	1

10. In your own opinion, do you think the Supreme Court should rule that it is (constitutional) or (unconstitutional) for the federal government to require all Americans to have health insurance, or do you not know enough to say? (ROTATE ITEMS IN PARENTHESES)

	01/12
Constitutional	17
Unconstitutional	54
Don't know enough to say	28
Don't know/Refused	1

11. In ruling on this case, do you think the Supreme Court Justices will (base their decision on legal analysis without regard to ideology or politics) or do you think they will (let their own ideological views influence their decision)? (ROTATE ITEMS IN PARENTHESES)

	01/12
Base decision on legal analysis	28
Let own views influence their decision	59
Don't know/Refused	13

12. Do you expect the Supreme Court to rule that the requirement that all Americans have health insurance is (constitutional) or (unconstitutional)? (ROTATE ITEMS IN PARENTHESES)

	01/12
Constitutional	29
Unconstitutional	55
Don't know/Refused	16

13. If the Supreme Court rules that the federal government cannot require Americans to have health insurance, do you expect some parts of the health care law will still be implemented, or do you think this will effectively mean the end of the entire law?

	01/12
Some parts of the law will still be implemented	55
Effectively means end of the entire law	30
Don't know/Refused	15

14. Thinking again about the provision in the health reform law that will require nearly all Americans to have health insurance by 2014 or else pay a fine. I'm going to read you some arguments for and against this provision of the law. What if you heard that (INSERT AND RANDOMIZE). Would that make you (more) or (less) likely to support requiring nearly all Americans to have health insurance, or wouldn't it make a difference either way? Next, (INSERT NEXT ITEM)?

Item d based on half sample A (n=592)

Item e based on half sample B (n=614)

	More likely to support	Less likely to support	Wouldn't make a difference	Don't know/Refused
a. Under the law, most Americans would still get coverage through their employers and so would automatically satisfy the requirement without having to buy new insurance	40	20	36	4
b. Without such a requirement, people may wait until they are seriously ill to buy health insurance, which will drive up health insurance costs for everyone	25	38	33	4
c. People would not be held to this requirement if the cost of new coverage would consume too large a share of their income	31	34	30	5
d. Requiring all Americans to have health insurance could mean that some people would be required to buy health insurance they find too expensive	15	56	26	3
e. Requiring all Americans to have health insurance could mean that some people would be required to buy health insurance they do not want or do not feel they need	20	43	33	5
f. The government should not be able to tell people what they have to buy	35	32	28	4
