September/October 2001 Health News Index Survey

October 2001

Methodology

The Kaiser Family Foundation Health News Index Survey was designed and analyzed by researchers at the Kaiser Family Foundation and the Harvard School of Public Health. Fieldwork was conducted by telephone by Princeton Survey Research Associates International between September 28, 2001 and October 1, 2001, among a nationally representative random sample of 1,001 adults ages 18 and over.

The margin of sampling error for the survey is plus or minus 3 percentage points for total respondents. For results based on smaller subsets of respondents the margin of sampling error is higher. Note that sampling error is only one of many potential sources of error in this or any other public opinion poll.

Values less than 0.5% are indicated by an asterisk (*). "VOL" indicates that a response was volunteered by respondent, not an explicitly offered choice.

1. To begin... What do you think is the most important problem in health or health care for the government to address? Is there another health problem you think is almost as important?

3. Now, I have a few more questions about some of the news stories that I just mentioned. If you're not sure of an answer, that's okay. Just tell me and I'll go to the next question.

You may have seen or heard news reports about the National Institutes of Health releasing a list of stem cell lines eligible for research with federal funding. As far as you know, under President Bush's current policy, will stem cell lines developed in the future be eligible for federal funding for research if they meet certain criteria or will only those named recently be eligible for federal funding?

- 14 Stem cell lines developed in the future will be eligible if they meet certain criteria
 28 Only those stem cell lines recently named by the National Institutes of Health
 (correct answer)
 58 Don't know/Refused

4. A federal judge recently issued a temporary injunction halting a Bush administration plan to promote private prescription drug discount cards under Medicare. From what you may have seen in the news in the last month was this a result of...(INSERT--READ AND RANDOMIZE)?
