

2006 Kaiser Media Fellowships program:
Harvard School of Public Health briefing with Nancy Kane, Professor of Management, Department of Health Policy Management
Friday, November 17, 2006

Harvard School of Public Health, 677 Huntington Avenue, Kresge Room 307, Boston, MA 02115

Participants:

Laura Beil, medical writer, The Dallas Morning News, Dallas, TX

June Cross, independent documentary film producer, New York City, NY

Howard Gleckman, senior correspondent, Business Week, Washington, D.C.

Kalpna Jain, International Health Journalism Fellow, former health editor,
Times of India, New Delhi

Joanne Kenen, Washington Congressional correspondent, Reuters News
Agency, Washington, D.C.

Seema Mathur, medical reporter, CBS 42 KEYE-TV, Austin, TX

Maryn McKenna, journalist and author, Atlanta, GA

Joe Neel, health editor, science desk, National Public Radio, Washington, D.C.

Friday, November 12

9:15am:	Meet in lobby at Sheraton Boston Hotel (39 Dalton Street Boston, MA; taxis to Harvard School of Public Health
10am-12pm:	Introduction to hospital financing issues Nancy Kane, Professor of Management Kresge Room 307, Harvard School of Public Health
12pm:	Taxis back to Sheraton Boston Hotel for Nieman Conference registration (registration closes at 5pm)
1pm:	Nieman Conference begins, Sheraton Boston Hotel