Methodology

The Pew Hispanic Center/Kaiser Family Foundation Election Survey is being released in conjunction with the 2004 National Survey of Latinos: Politics and Civic Engagement. It was conducted by telephone between July 12th and July 20th, 2004 among a national sample of 788 Latino adults, 18 years and older, who are registered to vote. 62% of these respondents also participated in previous Pew/Kaiser national RDD surveys of Latinos and 38% of respondents were contacted using a new RDD sample of the 48 contiguous states. The results are weighted to represent the best available estimates of the Latino electorate in the United States. The margin of error for the survey is +/-3.5%. International Communications Research of Media, PA conducted the fieldwork in either English (71% of interviews) or Spanish (29%), based on the respondent's preference.

Please note: (1) Sampling error may be larger for other subgroups and sampling error is only one of many potential sources of error in this or any other public opinion poll (2) Table percentages may not add to 100% due to rounding (3) An asterisk (*) indicates a response of less than 1%.
