

Statement provided by The Ohio State University Wexner Medical Center:

“As indicated by the FY2012 Goals provided, compensation for leaders at The Ohio State University Wexner Medical Center is based on a number of factors that focus on our tri-part mission as an academic medical center to improve people’s lives through innovation in research, education and patient care. We are adapting for a changing healthcare landscape by balancing our growth with financial and resource stewardship and a focus on patient satisfaction, quality and patient safety that will help us meet the needs of our community today and in the future.”
