

Figure 1: Adults Report Problems with Health Coverage During Previous Year

% of insured and uninsured reporting health coverage problem in previous year

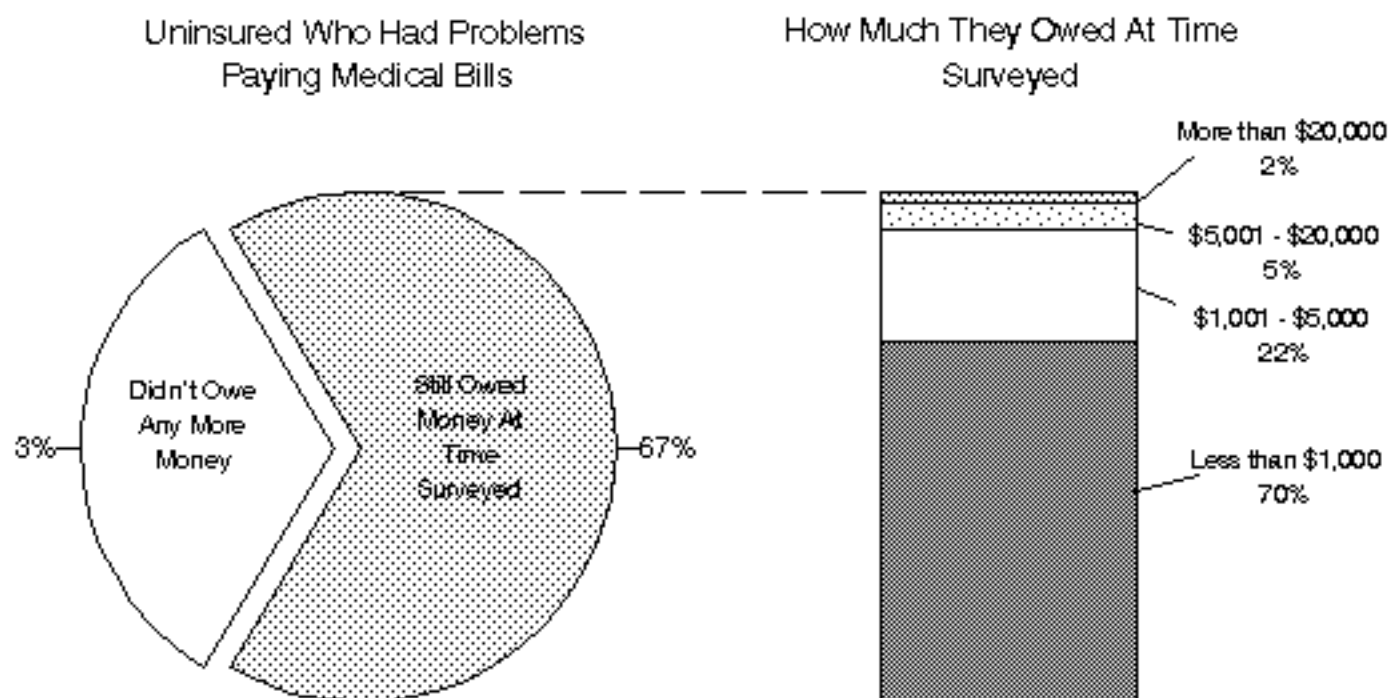

Source: Getting Behind the Numbers on Access to Care, Harvard School of Public Health, Kaiser Family Foundation, National Opinion Research Center, October 22, 1996

Figure 2: Uninsured Adults Are More Likely to Have Problems Getting and Paying for Medical Care

Source: Getting Behind the Numbers on Access to Care, Harvard School of Public Health, Kaiser Family Foundation, National Opinion Research Center, October 22, 1996, October 22, 1996

Figure 3: Many of the Uninsured Who Had Problems Paying Medical Bills Still Owed Money

Source: Getting Behind the Numbers on Access to Care. Harvard School of Public Health, Kaiser Family Foundation, National Opinion Research Center October 22, 1996

Figure 4: Uninsured Adults in Fair and Poor Health Are Most Likely to Have Problems Getting Needed Medical Care

% reporting problems getting care by health status

Source: Getting Behind the Numbers on Access to Care, Harvard School of Public Health, Kaiser Family Foundation, National Opinion Research Center, October 22, 1996

Figure 6: Most Uninsured Don't Have Insurance Because They Can't Afford It

% of uninsured reporting "main reason" they don't have insurance

Source: Getting Behind the Numbers on Access to Care, Harvard School of Public Health, Kaiser Family Foundation, National Opinion Research Center, October 22, 1996

Figure 7: Why Do the Insured Have Problems Paying Medical Bills?

% of insured reporting specific reason insurance didn't cover medical bill

Source: Getting Behind the Numbers on Access to Care, Harvard School of Public Health, Kaiser Family Foundation, National Opinion Research Center, October 22, 1996

Figure 8: Many American Adults Experienced Problems Getting or Paying for Needed Medical Care

Source: Getting Behind the Numbers on Access to Care, Harvard School of Public Health, Kaiser Family Foundation, National Opinion Research Center, October 22, 1996